If you would be happy;
never walk with the wicked,
never stand with sinners,
never sit among cynics,
but delight in the Lord's teaching and study it night and day.

You will stand like a tree planted by a stream,
bearing fruit in season,
its leaves never fading,
its yield always plenty.

Not so for the wicked,
like chaff they are blown by the wind.
The Lord marks the way of the upright, but the corrupt walk to ruin.

Who can rest on your holy mountain?
Those who walk with integrity speaking the truth with courage.

They never spread slander
or abuse their friends
or condemn their neighbours

They disdain the godless, but honour those who believe.
Before God, they give their word,
and keep it at any cost.

They neither lend for gain not take bribes against the guiltless.
These are the just:
they stand for ever unshaken.
